

Society High-Lights!

The "social high-lights" may not appreciate the genuine, worthy qualities in STYLEPLUS CLOTHES $17, even though they appreciate their stylish appearance.

Social "high-lights" often flicker and burn out because they have not the courage of their own convictions. The real "aristocrat," as distinguished from the "snob" is the man who holds out his right hand to every brother who counts. These men appreciate the sterling, worthy qualities in STYLEPLUS. They do not look down on high quality because it is associated with low price. When the greatest clothing organization in the world, by scientific methods, can reduce the usual cost of good clothes by a margin of $3 to $8, it doesn't belittle them to take advantage of this great achievement.

BIBLE CRITICS OF THE DEVIL, CLAIM

Dr. Gaebelein, Lecturing on Holy Scripture Scores Professors in Theological Seminaries.

The Bible lectures by Dr. Gaebelein, under the auspices of the Protestant church of this city, are devolving the interest of the Christian people in the fundamentals of Christianity.

Dr. Gaebelein is strong in his denunciation of many of the professors in our theological seminaries who are reflecting certain portions of the Bible, and are questioning certain doctrines which have been held as fundamental. Among the latter is the doctrine of the Virgin birth. These higher critics, Dr. Gaebelein says, are of the devil.

These Bible meetings will continue afternoon and evening during the week. The subject for the lecture in the Presbyterian church tonight is "The Entrusted Child."

LESSON IN CAREFUL HORSEMANSHIP BY JUDGE CRAIG

Pupil, Who Knocked Down Youth and Nearly Bowled Over Cop With His First Steed, Pays $15.

Galloping his horse on First street east last evening, Brand Spitzer rode down Tony Rocco, a youth, at the corner of Central avenue. Rocco was knocked down, but escaped with bruises. He filed a complaint against Spitzer and the latter was arraigned in the police court today. Chief of Police McMinn, after eyewitnesses had testified to the reckless pace at which Spitzer rode last evening, told the court that the defendant was habitually careless in his riding. Two weeks ago, Spitzer admitted he almost ran down Officer Tony Guevera in an alley off Central avenue, and was warned then to be more careful. Spitzer's chief excuse was that he never owned a horse before and didn't know just how to handle them. He said he didn't think he was riding any faster than others he had seen on the street. Constable James H. Smith, who saw the accident last night, told the court that Spitzer was riding on the wrong side of the street and, moreover, didn't appear to have any control over the horse. Judge Craig fined Spitzer $15. He paid.

SANITATION REPORT ON THE CITY'S MILK SUPPLY

Dairies in Good Condition. Says Professor Clark; Average Summer Scores of Licensed and Inspected Places.

Prof. John D. Clark of the University of New Mexico, who is the city chemist, has filed the following report with the board of health on the average summer scores of the licensed and inspected dairies supplying milk in the city of Albuquerque:

Reeker, E. H., 81.
Hentley, Geo., 62.

Hezemek's dairy, 97; have installed very up-to-date washing and sterilizing apparatus.

Hovey, J. S., 73.

Brackett, L. L., 56; license recommended conditionally.

Chavez, Eugenio, 51; now adding new milking barn.

Canners Jersey Dairy, 78; sold out to A. M. Van Dyke.

Connally & Sons, 62.

Curd & Adams, 79.

Dalley, C. W., 52.

Travis, Mrs. C. N., 52.

Gustafson's Purify Dairy, 90.

French, J. L., 66.

Ident Dairy, 10; owned by A. M. Van Dyke.

Matthews Dairy & Supply Co., 97; have recently equipped all milkers with white milking suits.

Pfaff, E. M., 63; just gone out of milk business.

Schaeffer, E. E., 67.

Stevens, 77.

Strong Farm, 59; improvements now being made.

Viehl & Co., 69; sold out to A. M. Van Dyke.

The dairies are in good sanitary condition and the dairymen deserve considerable credit for their efforts to keep them so.

The abundance of rain this summer has made the keeping of cows clean a difficult task at times, and has also made flies more prevalent than ever before."

ELKS TO GIVE LAST SHOW IN THE OLD OPERA HOUSE

Banner Minstrel Bill on Eve of House Wreckers' Appearance; Skits and Songs Local Men and Affairs.

One more minstrel show in the old opera house is to be held before the Elks remodel their building, and do away with the theater. It will be the valedictory performance for the theater—the last show in the opera house.

It will be held the evenings of September 24 and 25, and on the morning of the 26th the wreckers will begin to tear the theater down.

Famed locally for the quality of their minstrel shows, the Elks on this occasion will bend every effort to reach a mark that will be remembered for years to come. It is planned to make "the last show in the opera house" the best show of its sort that has ever been held there.

Local talent will disport in the circle and the olla. The songs and the monologues, the dialogues and the skits are to be crammed full of gags, bits, quips and quirks aimed at local men and affairs. Nobody and nothing will be sacred from the minstrel jesters, and the richest program that has ever been presented by the Elks or anybody else in this city is promised. The joksmiths and song writers will let themselves loose, and if the plans of the committee are half way carried through the wreckers won't have much to do the day after the show—the audience will laugh the building down about its ears.

Judie Brett, who has conducted other shows for the Elks, will be the director of this one. It is to be made a society event, and the leading business and financial men of the city will be impressed into the cast.

The show plans were launched at a meeting this morning, and from now on the details and the arrangements will be energetically worked out. Rehearsals are to begin soon.

The committee in charge is made up of E. Landolfi, Senator Isaac Barth, W. R. Walton, J. E. Goodell, W. R. Patterson, V. Sisk, Dr. W. R. Lovelace, Henry Yanow, F. A. Storck.

The show will be held at the new W. O. W. hall.
